Two Georgetown Men Arrested for Murder

(Georgetown, SC)---Georgetown County Sheriff's Investigators arrested 22-year-old Marcus White of 780 Earl Road, Georgetown and 18-year-old Stephon Victor Gary of 197 Thomas Drive, Georgetown last night for Murder, Kidnapping, and Burglary 1st. This came after finding 63-year-old Stanley Levi Livingston deceased in his home on Powell Road in Georgetown County.

Georgetown County Sheriff's Deputies were dispatched to 9816 Powell Road Wednesday evening at approximately 7:20 due to the victim was found deceased and there was evidence of foul play. Sheriff's deputies received information that White allegedly assaulted the victim and stole $200.00 Tuesday night.

Shortly after being on scene, one of the witnesses told sheriff's deputies about a possible stolen four wheeler behind the witness's residence that was also alleged to be taken by White. When the witness left the scene to go home and see if the four wheeler was still there, she called the sheriff's deputies and advised them White was the yard. When sheriff's deputies arrived on scene, they had a short foot chase into a wooded area just before capturing White.

Once White was in custody, he named Gary as his accomplice during the incident Tuesday night that claimed the life of the victim.

The victim had an autopsy at MUSC at noon today. The preliminary result of the autopsy was blunt force trauma to the head.

White and Gary are currently being held in the Georgetown County Detention Center. Both have not been formally charged but sheriff's investigators are in the process of obtaining warrants.
