Jim Ferdon, the Director of the Howard Adult Center for the Georgetown County School District, recently attended the 10th Annual State Adult Education ‘Celebrating our Success’ Luncheon in Columbia. Mr. Ferdon was presented the Correction Education-Career Readiness Certificate (CRC) Award. This award is presented to programs that served incarcerated individuals in a state prison or county jail setting. The programs awarded a minimum of 100 WorkKeys (CRC) credentials for a state prison and a minimum of 25 for a county jail. The Georgetown County Detention Center and the Howard Adult Center continue to forge a partnership to help inmates increase their skills set through the WorkKeys program for employment once released. “Sheriff A. Lane Cribb, Chief Mike Schwartz, Re-Entry Director Debbie Barr, John Chandler and other generous volunteers along with our staff continue to work hard to make a positive impact,” said Ferdon.
